Second Annual Glamazon-A-Thon Again Raising Money for Every Woman's Place

Glamazon Artistic Hair Culture will be cutting hair out in front of their shop in the Amazon Building again this year to raise money for Every Woman's Place and Webster House. On Sunday, July 4 from 11:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. during the Summer Celebration Craft Market on Western Avenue, volunteers from Glamazon will be cutting hair and giving manicures and massages to benefit this local charity. The cost for a haircut, manicure or massage will be $15 with all of the proceeds going to Every Woman's Place and Webster House.

Last year Glamazon was able to raise just under $1,000 for Every Woman's Place and Webster House. This year's event will include a raffle for some really great prizes, including a stay at the Lakeside Inn, some clothing by Moxi and other gifts from local businesses. Glamazon will also have custom hair beads available for sale at the Craft Market that they will put in with your haircut.

So please come on down to the Craft Market during Summer Celebration and support a great Main Street business helping to raise money for a very worthy cause.

Jere and all the Glamazon volunteers from last year's event

Come watch the folks from Glamazon in action cutting hair and raising money for Every Woman's Place!

Annual Spring Clean-Up A Big Success!

Main Street would like to thank all of the volunteers from local business and organizations that participated in the annual Main Street Spring Clean-Up this year. Over 60 people helped to clean up Western Avenue and Third Street. Special thanks to Lowe's, Coastline Deli, Holiday Inn, Plumbs Grocery, The Frauenthal Center, Port City Paints, the Muskegon Chamber of Commerce and the City of Muskegon for donating the materials and supplies for this year's clean-up.

Volunteers pick litter on Western Avenue.

Muskegon County Museum Director John McGarry starts cleaning Hackley Park statues.

Ms. Emily Hoffman's Glenside 4th-graders help plant some flowers.

Volunteers from Lowe's help remove graffiti from downtown buildings with paint donated by Port City Paints.

The Muskegon Mercantile storefront gets a fresh coat of paint.

The volunteers all enjoy the BBQ in Hackley Park after all their hard work.
